

Hospital autism alerts

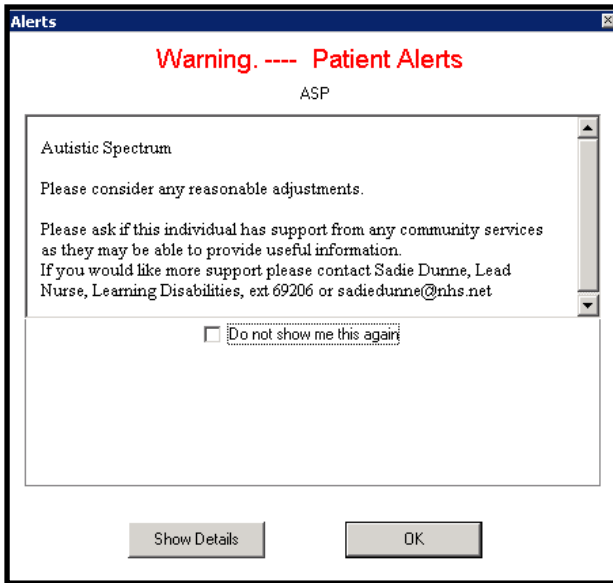

The Leeds Teaching Hospitals Trust (LHT) can add a flag on to your inpatient electronic notes to alert staff that you have autism.

You choose if you want this flag to be attached to your electronic notes.

When hospital staff see this alert, it prompts them to ask if you require any reasonable adjustments and if you have a hospital passport that they can look at.

The hospital passport can also be added to your electronic patient file.

The Lead Nurse for Learning Disabilities and Autism is happy to discuss this with you in more detail if you would like more information.

← The autism flag looks like this.

If you have one and are admitted to any NHS hospital in Leeds, this will come up on the hospital's system.

How to get an autism flag

If you would like this flag adding to your name, please contact:

Barbara Ball, Learning Disabilities/Autism

Floor 2, Trust HQ, St James Hospital, Beckett Street, Leeds LS9 7TF

Tel: 0113 206 5011

Email: barbara.ball3@nhs.net

If you would like help putting forward your needs to health services and do not have support, you can contact Leeds Autism AIM. We can help you to do personalised resources around healthcare. Visit leedsautismaim.org.uk for more info.

The Leeds Teaching Hospitals NHS

NHS Trust